BUGGIES SURRIES HARNESS J. R. HASELTEN.

We will and do save people MONEY who buy from us.

-Of Local Interest.-

Doves are scarce and wild.
Breakfast melons are plentiful.

The chicken crop has been very short all summer.

Home-grown watermelons are plentiful, and of unusually fine variety.

Monday is County Court day, please remember us when you come in if you owe the poor printer anything. See?

While Judge Saufley is attending the Confederate Reunion at Parks Hill, Capt. Wm. Herndon is warming the woolsock in Circuit Court.

The Sick.
Ed Arnold is very ill of typhoid fever. Mrs. Marshall Eason remains quite ill, but is improving. Mrs. Lewis L. Walker is very much improved and able to sit up. Judge Eph Brown is still confined to his room.

Candidates Arbitrate.
We received a note this morning from Hon. Harve Helm saying he and Mr. Warren had arbitrated their claims on the congressional race, so far as Lincoln county is concerned, and he, Mr. Helm, was awarded the track as between themselves.

Dairy Cream.
The W. C. T. U. requests The Record to say that in the future nothing but dairy cream, made by the Lancaster Dairy, will be served by the Union. This is the best cream to be had, and the name alone is a guarantee of purity.

Attention Farmers.
I will be at Lancaster, Monday, Aug. 24, to buy and ship mule and horse colts, and yearling mules. Also buy a few good broke mules from 4 to 8 years old. W. C. Terhune.

The Craft at Labor.
The Masonic Lodge will work again in the Entered Apprentice degree Tuesday night. There are a great many petitions in, and there will be enough work to last all through the summer. The lodge room is very pleasant and the meetings are enjoyed by a great many of the brethren.

Handsome Present.
The Record office is indebted to Mr. Harwood, the gentlemanly manager of the Garrard County Marble Works, for a handsome, hand-made match safe. It is of Lake Superior sandstone six inches high and is carved into the trunk of a tree. The work is splendid and the handsome and useful article has been highly complimented by those who have seen it. Mr. Harwood is one of the best marble-cutters in the South, and has done a great amount of beautiful work.

Keep watermelon rinds off the streets.

$1.50 round trip to Cincinnati Sunday. Good order and a big time.

As Rev. Mr. Chumbley will be away Sunday, there will be no services at the Presbyterian church.

Union services will be held at the Methodist church Sunday night. It is Bro. Tindler's turn to preach.

Wanted.
Attendant for an aged lady. Address box 402, Danville. It

Wiggle Gets Flighty.
Jim Wiggle, one of the small pox patients, got hold of too much mean whisky and went daffy last week. A few days in jail fixed him up. He tried to drown himself in the "Old Ark" spring.

Successful Meeting.
Rev. F. M. Tindler closed his meeting at Hubble Sunday night. A member of the church tells us Mr. Tindler's sermons were greatly enjoyed and awakened great interest in the church.

Contract to Build.
Richmond Climax:—The contract to rebuild the Paint Lick Bank has been awarded to John Rymel, of this city, and the work will begin at once. Rufus Stone will do the brick work.

Business Change.
Herbert Guiley and Arch Lawson have bought the stock of groceries, etc., of Floyd Curtis, on Richmond street, and will run the business right up to the minute. They are deserving young men and should receive a liberal share of patronage.

Of For Kansas.
George Smith, Jr., left Saturday for Kansas, in charge of Speaks' & Holzclaw's threshers. Several hands will follow, and the firm expects to get all the work the machine can do, as the wheat is rotting on the ground for want of hands and machinery.

Fine Cattle.
It took fourteen cars to haul the Beazley and Robinson cattle Monday. These sales were reported in a recent issue of The Record. The animals went to Winchester, thence via C. & O. to Newport News, thence to be shipped abroad. They were a fine lot.

A Big Loss.
Last Thursday as Mrs. J. B. Hutchins of Preachersville, was coming to town, she lost her pocket book between the Cemetery and Sweeney's stable. It contained $55 in cash and about $20 in checks. Mr. Hutchins offered a reward but nothing has been heard of the money. Had it fallen into the hands of an honest person, it would have been returned, but of course a thief will hold on to it.

Sale of Good Ones.
Capt. Ike M. Dunn last week sold his fine premium three-year-old Chester Dare stallion, Rockefeller, to W. A. Massie, of Texas. The price was $1,000. This colt has attracted wide attention as he is a full brother to Capt. Dunn's famous show mare, Gypsy Queen, and is a splendid animal. He also sold to same party a yearling by Chester Dare, dam Ella C., for $500. These animals have attracted wide attention, and Mr. Dunn has had many flattering offers for them.

"Prunes."
Dick Burnside, the "devil" in this office, is very fond of prunes. He went home recently, after a hard day's work, quite "hungry," as he expresses it. The regular supper being over, Dick went on a foraging trip through the kitchen and dining room, a large dish of prunes being his principal reward. He ate probably three plums of them, and during the night a doctor had to help Dick out of trouble. He now goes by no other name save "Prunes."

Fontaine Fox Bobbitt.
A large crowd heard the above named gentleman at the court house Monday afternoon. As stated in a recent issue of The Record, Mr. Bobbitt is a candidate for democratic nomination for congress in this district. We don't know of a man better posted on men and matters, and if any man says he is a fool, that man simply don't know what he is talking about. Fontaine Fox Bobbitt has more genuine, old-fashioned "hoss" sense in his head than is allotted half-a-dozen ordinary men.

Graded School Opening.
Lancaster Graded School will open Sept. 8, 1903 with a full corps of excellent teachers. It is very important that patrons send their children on the first day in order that prompt classification of scholars can be made. It is due the children that they start right. The loss of a single day may cause child to drag for a whole session. Pay patrons must make arrangements to pay in advance the following tuition:

1st, 2nd and 3rd grades. $3.00
4th, 5th and 6th grades. 12.00
7th to 12th grades. 15.00
Children must present their receipts after being graded. We want a full opening and it is the earnest desire of the trustees that this may be the best year in the history of the school. Pay patrons must call upon E. W. Harris, after their children have been graded and pay tuition in advance.
Wm. Herndon, Ch'm
J. B. Kinnaird, Sec'y

Cut the weeds.

The grand jury is in session.

The tigers are keeping unusually quiet. The g. j. is in session.

Since the ministers and City Council made their raids on the Chute, the tigers and other devilment-raisers are keeping quiet. We heard one of the boys say "It's so a decent fellow can scarcely afford to go there now."

Circuit Court.
The August term of the Garrard Circuit Court convened Monday morning, with His Honor, Judge M. C. Saufley, on the bench. In his charge to the grand jury, Judge Saufley explained the duties clearly, calling attention to violation of criminal laws, the failure of juries to inflict proper punishment, etc. He dwelt at length on the frequent custom of juries in returning a big batch of indictments which amount to nothing, and only put the courts to extra work and the state to expense. He said it was not the quantity of work done, but the quality thereof which spoke well of a grand jury, and compared it to the little 2x4 lawyer who is continually jumping up and making motions in court the sole purpose of making the spectators think he has a big lot of work on the docket. In speaking of the testimony on the character of witnesses, he said that a witness will answer most any question definitely, "yes," or "no," but when asked in regard to a man's character from what the people generally say of it, not once in a thousand times will a definite answer be given. "So do not return indictments on any testimony that you would not be willing to convict on, were you on the trial jury," said he. He took a shot at the juror who gets in his spite at an enemy, paid his respects to the chicken-hearted jurors, called attention to the investigation of every county office, and admonished the jury to look well into every matter brought before it. That Judge Saufley is one of the ablest jurists in Kentucky, no one will dispute, and his retirement from the bench is sincerely regretted by the people of Garrard, irrespective of party. He is an able lawyer, absolutely fearless in discharge of his duties, will not tolerate the delay or efforts to thwart justice, and his absolute impartiality has won for him the highest esteem and confidence of the people. The loss of the services of such a man is indeed a great misfortune to any community.

The call of the Commonwealth's docket was taken up, Hon. John Sam Owsley, Commonwealth's Attorney being on hand to look after the state's interest, and he is certainly doing so with a vigor and faithfulness that commands the admiration of the public. The following compose the GRAND JURY.
James Bratton, W. G. Anderson,
T. R. Ramsey, R. H. Batson,
W. A. Berkele, George Mitchell,
Geo. Broadbush, Kinnaird Bourne,
T. J. Hatcher, Victor Lear,
Alex. Walker, Millard Route, F. M. Pettit JURY.
Jno. M. Sanders,
T. A. Elkin, W. T. Davis,
Ike Hamilton, Wm. Royston,
J. T. Dudderar, Lefe Brown,
J. W. Palmer, Gilbert Turner,
Robt. Long, J. M. Palmer,
Joe H. Arnold, Geo. T. Ballard,
Cy Moberly, John Davis,
B. M. Lear, Henry Cox,
S. B. Henry, W. P. Tuggle,
Wm. Hughes, J. D. Gulley,
Geo. Saddler.

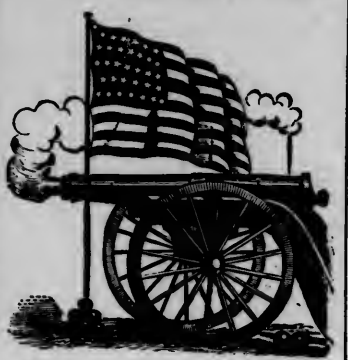

Most of the time has been taken up by the whisky sellers, pistol carriers, a hog thief or two, and similar stuff. The civil docket was called yesterday. There is a good sprinkling of the latter and court will be in session possibly the greater part of the three weeks.

Everybody Knows "Tige."
A Cincinnati paper recently published a lengthy article about "Tige," the large cat that loafs about the Palace Hotel, in that city. Everybody who stops at the Palace knows Tige, and he is quite a pet. "Tige" used to watch his opportunity and steal into the dining room, but orders have been issued to turn him down, to fire him bodily when he attempts to enter. Kentucky people go to the Palace Hotel as naturally as water runs downhill, and the reason is clear. There you get what you know to be absolutely pure and fresh. You get good, well-cooked cornbread, hot biscuits, good butter milk and such vitals as we have here in the Bluegrass. The meals are served nicely, and you are not made to pay for a lot of "style" and stuff that Kentuckians do not like. The rates are reasonable, the rooms elegant, and those in charge are gentlemen, in every sense of the word. It is a favorite stopping place for ladies, and they can go there alone and be in safe hands as at home. Mr. Maxwell the clever proprietor, permits no objectionable characters about the house and a "masher" is fired out as quickly as would be a sneak thief. The Palace is located at Sixth and Vine, one block above Fountain Square, and in the very heart of the retail stores, is a few minutes' walk from all points of interest. When you go to Cincinnati, The Record advises that you stop at the Palace Hotel and if you are not satisfied with everything, you evidently haven't been anywhere or seen much of the world.

The Work Commenced

Dirt Broken on Waterworks Monday. Many Laborers are Rushing the Work.

Let's Rise and Sing Long-Metre Doxology

Monday afternoon, at 1.30 o'clock, the large force of hands lined up, May or Kinnaird dug out the first shovel of dirt and work on the water works began in earnest. The company has all the hands that can be obtained and wants more, so there's plenty of work for all able bodied men who want to turn an honest penny. The site is a beautiful one, the hills making a perfect lake, so that the 25 foot dam will throw a body of water, averaging 23 feet over eight acres of land. The surrounding land from which the lake will be fed is of fine bluegrass, and there is absolutely no source for objectionable matter to get into the water. When the dam is completed, all soil will be peeled off and the bottom, which will be clay, will be prepared for the water. As stated in a recent issue, people who know about these matters say this plan is the most successful and satisfactory that has been tried, and officers of cities adopting it recommend it as the best and most desirable to have. The pipes are on the road and in a few days work will begin in the town limits. Eight inch mains will be laid on principal streets, while six inch will run through the side streets. There will be forty fire plugs. A bond has been taken for the completion of the plant by December 1, so the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible. That Lancaster needs water works worse than anything else, no public spirited man will deny, and now that work has commenced, there should be, and doubtless is, great rejoicing in the hearts of those who want to see the good old town prosper.

The Broadhead fair is on, and many from this section are attending.

The Ladies will serve ice cream in the Park Thursday afternoon. All the members of the W. C. T. U. are requested to meet Saturday at three o'clock, sharp.

Horses and Ponies.
We will sell 100 head of horses at the fair grounds Richmond, Ky., and one car load of Indian Ponies. These horses are breaking out nicely and are giving satisfaction. Sale commencing promptly at 10 o'clock Tuesday Sept. 8-21-11.
J. T. Cook & Co.

About September 1.
The W. C. T. U. rooms will be ready for occupancy about Sept. 1. The ladies will open the building by a reception, at which refreshments will be served free of cost. Old and young, married and single, lad and lassie, all are invited, and requested to bring a gift. Plates, knives, cups, saucers, pictures, etc., are needed. Come one and all, and give the new enterprise a hearty send-off. Exact date given later on.

Fine Farm for Sale.
The Record is authorized to advertise one of the best farms in Buckeye, for sale. The place contains 100 acres of the best producing land in the county, abundance of water, good dwelling, barn, outhouses and good fence. Lies about half mile from Poor Ridge pike. Here is a bargain for those wanting to invest in land that is strictly A No. 1. a-21-11

A Splendid Idea.
It is the wish of the trustees of the Graded School that parents will dress their children in the uniform adopted or suggested. By doing this, it will make it much cheaper on patrons who have to buy so many clothes, as the uniform is not expensive, and all will be on an equal footing. The uniform is of navy blue (wool or cloth) the quality to suit purchaser. The hats are to be the mortar-board style and can be purchased at the milliners or dry goods houses. The object of this uniform is to cut down expenses of those parents who have to clothe so many children, and the idea is a good one. A similar plan has been suggested for boys, and the parents should join in with the trustees and make the scheme a success.

Republican Convention.
A Republican Convention is hereby called to meet at the Court House in Lancaster at 2 o'clock p. m. on Saturday Aug. 29, to select delegates to the District Convention to be held at Danville, on Tuesday Sept. 1st at 2 p. m. for the purpose of nominating republican candidates for the offices of Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney in this Judicial District. This Aug. 18, 1903. D. R. Collier, Chm. 21.

Bradley's Portrait.
Harrodsburg Democrat:—A hand-portrait of former Governor Bradley will soon hang in the Executive office of the State house at Frankfort. The portrait is now completed and as soon as the frame, which is being made by Mr. Claf Fowler is ready it will be hung and presented to the State with appropriate ceremonies. This will be in about six weeks. Mrs. Jessie D. Rue, of Harrodsburg, a Kentucky woman of rare artistic talent, painted the portrait, which is a life-sized bust in oil. It is an excellent likeness of the former Governor. The presentation of the portrait is a personal tribute to Gov. Bradley from his friends. While he was Chief Executive he started the custom of collecting the portraits of former Governors for the State house with the result that most of them now adorn the building. Friends thought it would be a deserved recognition to place Gov. Bradley's portrait among them, and at the first request raised the $400 necessary. Mrs. Rue has met with remarkable success. Among the portraits she has painted is one of Grand Commander Anderson, of the G. A. R.

The youngest Sunday school scholar in the United States, Miss Elizabeth Davis, 18 months old, daughter of D. E. Davis attends the Methodist Sunday School in Lancaster.

CENTRAL RECORD.

LOUIS LANDRAM.

Lancaster, Ky., August 21, 1903.

The negro who assaulted a white woman near Danville, Ill., which deed was the cause of the recent lynching and rioting in that community, has been indicted, convicted and sentenced to a long term in prison. Should the people in every locality know to a certainty that brutes charged with crimes that throw men into fury and lawlessness would receive such prompt attention from the authorities, it is safe to say this knowledge would cause a very material decrease in the number of lynchings and mobs, no matter what the locality. To a considerable extent, blame for a weakness on the part of the people to take law in their own hands and lynch rapists and criminals of this worst type is due to the fact that there has been a great laxity in the conviction and punishment of the wretches, whose offenses demanded that they be speedily sentenced and placed where they could not molest and mutilate defenseless women. We dare say that these men who stand willing to join a mob and lynch a human brute would before-hand consent to waive this apparently newly acquired privilege and let the law take its course if they knew beyond the slightest doubt that the man for whose blood they thirst would be duly punished without procrastination. To terminate mob rule, men guilty of the crimes which form the incentive to lynchings must be punished to the degree that their crimes call for and promptly at that.

The Four Hundred upper crust of society is now asking the government for a mourning postage stamp. There would be about as much sense in it as there is in the other tomfoolery now gone through with when a relative dies. Attend a funeral and here comes a long procession of black dresses. Well, that may do to wear to the services, but for a few days after the relatives go about clad in black clothes from head to foot, and in cities they go so far as to have the harness of the horses draped in black goods of some kind. We once saw a poodle dog, in New York, with his collar draped in black as he sat in a fine carriage by a rich woman who was mourning (?) the loss of some rich old codger who had possibly left her a large fortune with which to marry again. Our reason for disliking the custom is that there is enough gloom in the loss of a dear one, without having one continual funeral after it is over. If you loved the deceased, you will not have to wear certain kind of clothes to show it, and for the people to dress in the god-forsaken, doleful garb cuts no figure with the public and only adds gloom to gloom. How often have you heard the expression, "She looks well in black," or "I don't think black is at all becoming to her." Away with such tomfoolery!

Three thousand dollars is what a New York jury assessed a young fellow for kissing a girl 1,233 times, or a little over $2.40 per kiss. If the kiss-ee was a pretty Kentucky girl, and she did her part in the operation, they were worth $2,400 each, but if she stood like a knot on a log and made the fellow do all the "work," one cent each was a high price. A kiss, so we have heard, that is not responded to and entered into with the same spirit in which it is given, is as objectionable as eating cold soup, or listening to a temperance lecture.

For the second time, one man on the jury has prevented the hanging of Jett and White, the mountain assassins. Eleven good men and true were found in Harrison county, but those back of the assassination, with their mint of money, succeeded in getting one man on the jury to stand pat against the will of the other eleven. It seems that justice is a thing of the past in Kentucky. Money can bring about anything, even in the courts.

Rev Dr. Hillis is of the opinion "we all go to the devil on $50,000 a year." The reverend gentleman is about right, but there are many men who will risk their soul's salvation for a much less sum. We have known men, pretty decent sort of people too, who would see their best friend beg bread rather than lend him a helping hand. This is a great old world, any way you take it.

An up-East lunatic imagined he was the standing army. If the poor fellow wants recognition and a boost from Uncle Sam, he must pose as a red nosed politician and join the volunteers, as the Army has been thrown down at every opportunity, and it has been clearly demonstrated that a "regular" stands about as much show as a clawless cat in perdition.

Those college students, who went West to help in the harvest fields, have returned home. "Mommer" was not there to make up the feather beds, cook pies for them or comb their auburn locks. The average college student turns out a veritable hot-house plant. It takes the farmer boy, the Rube lad, to keep the world a-movin'.

We have never seen a weekly paper handle a big and important matter as well as the Cynthiana Democrat reported the Jett-White trial. The sum and substance was given completely, and didn't take all day to tell it. If Jim Allen could "court" as well as he can run a newspaper, he would have long since shaken off "single cussedness."

Those eleven Harrison county jurors must not think the people curse them in the least for the failure to hang Jett and White. The public knows they were honest men, and true men, and would have hanged the assassins had not a black sheep been found to thwart their will.

There was a big, old time foot-washing up on Indian Creek, near Pineville, last Sunday. If the ministers of the land want to do a good turn for the people, they will preach this old time custom, and insist that it be carried out, especially in warm weather.

Gen. Miles is hearing the presidential bee buzzing in his bonnet, and the Louisville Times says if he will listen he may hear Cousin George Dewey's warning cry, "Watch out, Nelse, the pesky thing's got a sting-er."

A Louisville preacher says the "Negro must work out his own salvation; he can only be lifted up through his own efforts." Let Rastus commit any dastardly deed, and he will receive all necessary help in being "lifted up," if a person is to judge from the many recent hangings.

A Kansas woman lost $7,300, which she had hidden in her bustle. This is a case where hind-sight was the most important.

General Lee on Lynching.

Gen Fitzhugh Lee, while in Kansas City a few days since, thus preached the gospel of lynching.

"I don't believe in lynching. No body believes in lynching. Be careful that you get that right. However, continued the general, there is one of the objects attained by lynching that is seldom considered. If a man, say a negro, shall assault a woman, perhaps some very dear relative of yours, he has got to be killed or arrested. If this negro is arrested after his crime and is brought into the court room, with its jury, its lawyers, the woman, the one who has suffered it already, is the prosecuting witness. She must appear and, perhaps, under the cross examination of lawyers, relate even details of the assault, thus subjecting her to humiliation to an extreme degree."

Forty Acres and a Cabin.

If Robert G. Ingersoll had been less analytical, a little more considerate of the clergy, and more sparing in ridicule, some of the things he said and which are really worth remembering would have given him a place in hearts now estranged. Few men have written with greater pathos or expressed in language more sublime the ideal happiness which may come from right living here, and his home life was such as many of his critics and traducers would do well to imitate. His heart was near to nature and his hand was not withheld from those in need. A young man who once sought a clerkship in Washington and who had written for an endorsement from Mr. Ingersoll, received the following characteristic reply: "Young man I would rather have forty acres of land with a log cabin on it and the woman I love in the cabin—with a little grassy, winding path leading down to the spring where the water gurgles from the lips of the earth, whistling day and night to the white pebbles a perpetual poem—with hollyhocks growing at the corner of the house, and morning glories blooming over the low-latched door—with lattice work over the window so that the sunlight would fall checked on the dimpled babe in the cradle, and birds—like songs with wings hovering in the summer air—than be the clerk of any government on earth."

Origin of the Julep.

Senator "Jee" Blackburn, of Kentucky, is responsible for this mint julep story: "It is a popular idea, but a mistaken one," said he, "that the mint julep originated in my State. As a matter of fact it came from the North, and was first introduced in our section when old Col. Cranberry, of Lexington, entertained a visitor from the State of New York. The visitor picked a handful of mint one day and manufactured a julep for the Colonel, who straightway became exceedingly fond of it. So enamored did he become of the seductive beverage that after the departure of his guest the Colonel kept his old body servant constantly chasing around in the search of mint. Two years later the gentleman from New York found himself in the same locality, and, borrowing a horse, he rode around the place to call upon the Colonel. The place appeared deserted and neglected when he arrived. There was nobody in sight save the old black servant, who was seated dejectedly upon the doorstep. He raised his eyes to the caller, but there was no recognition in his glance."

"Don't you know me, Sam," inquired the visitor.

"No, Sah, I doesn't know you, Sah," replied the negro.

"Oh, well, Never mind. Where is the Colonel?"

"I doesn't rightly know, Sah, jes whar de Kunnel is at de present moment, Sah," said the darky slowly. "De fac' is, Sah, dere was a g'mlen come down yere from de Norf las' yeah, or de yeah befo', an' he done larned de Kunnel to put yabs in his whisky."

"Well, what of that, Sam?"

"De Kunnel died las' week, Sah."

Shoe on Other Foot.

"These shoes, doctor," said the cot-ler, after a brief examination, "ain't worth mending."

"Then, of course," said the doctor turning away, "I don't want anything done to them."

"But I charge you fifty cents, just the same."

"What for?"

"Well, sir, you charged me five dollars the other day for telling me there wasn't anything the matter with me."

A young Oklahoma man went to church with his best girl. Both were quite handsome and modest. When the collection was being taken up the young man explored his pockets and whispered to the young lady:

"I haven't got a cent; I changed my pants."

In the meantime the young lady had been searching in her pockets and, finding nothing, blushed a rosy red as she stammered:

"I'm in the same predicament."

Danville Advocate:—Miss Em Smith of this city, daughter of Mr and Mrs C N Smith, is making quite a reputation as a musician at Chautauqua, N. Y. Last week she played in oratorio audience of seven thousand people. This week she will play a solo at Higgins' Hall in the Marcellon and Sherwood Students' Recital. He has carried it in a plaster cast for several months, but the injured member refused to heal and he was compelled to submit to an operation for what the doctors termed an ununited fracture. The operation proved very successful, and it is hoped that he will be all right in a few weeks.

Good Report.

A subscriber writes as follows: "I made a flying visit to Dripping Springs, which is one of the most popular resorts in the country. The famous water, and the pure mountain air, together with the wholesome food furnished by Mr. J M Rothwell, will restore health and vigor to anyone. I know of several remarkable cures that have been effected, where the parties had despaired of recovery."

Need No Pity.

Don't pity the country editor. He is as contented as a cow puffed up by eating too many rose geraniums. Pray for the spindle shanked gazabo that is living the strenuous life in the metropolis. He needs it. Don't lose any sleep over the Rube who edits your home paper. He may not know a pang-eryic from a misfit formula for making apple butter, but he knows a hypocrite when he sees one. He probably eats with a knife and wears undershirts with silvers in 'em, but no city or town "sage" can make him eat dirt. To be poked fun at by the city brother when his paper announces to the world in a flourish of long primer that "S" Green's choicest bull calf choked it self to death on a "baga," doesn't ruffle him a particle, for he rests assured in the consciousness that it will please "S" and doesn't hurt the city chap, who wouldn't know a rutabaga from a Greek god. Ex—

Some Truthful Words.

Winchester Democrat:—If it were not for the town paper you would be forgotten. Your success, your sorrow would be drowned in a horse pond of oblivion. Your next door neighbor would not know that you had made a sale of property and that it had swelled you up like a poisoned pup. If it were not for the town paper people would not know that you existed, and care less. When you walk up town, feeling that earth could not get along without you, that the stars would cease to shine, just remember that if no one else recognizes your importance the reporter is awed by your majestic tread, your sublime presence. Others may deceive you, tell you that they would like to buy you for what you are worth and sell you for what you think you are worth, but the town paper will stand by you, notice your coming and going, and make you feel as though you amounted to something when you do not. Always remember the town paper.

RESOLUTIONS.

At a meeting of Franklin Lodge No 7, I. O. O. F., Lancaster, Ky., the following resolutions pertaining to the death of our deceased brother, Wm. Ward, were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, that in the death of our brother, Wm. Ward, this lodge has lost a devoted member and an untiring worker and one who had the cause of Odd-Fellowship at heart, and one who not only professed but acted Odd Fellowship, in its truest sense and many are the widows and orphans throughout this jurisdiction whose hearts have been made glad by his timely assistance, and we are glad to say with his kindly disposition and love for his order no Odd Fellow or Odd Fellow's widow or children was ever turned from his door without timely and substantial assistance, and now that he has gone out upon that dark and turbulent river we are now satisfied—yes, we know that his hands were filled with deeds of charity, the golden keys which unlock the pearly gates to a new Jerusalem.

Resolved, that to his family and friends we extend our deepest sympathy in this their hour of bereavement.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, published in the Lancaster Record and at large upon the records of the Lodge Book.

Well Said

The better class of colored people at Evansville, Indianapolis and at other towns are appealing to the officers and others to enforce the law against the worthless element of their race which has been bringing the negroes into disrepute. They ask that the idlers, the thieves and the toughs of that race be made to either go to work or else move on. There are good negroes, many of them who make good citizens, those who are in favor of law and order, and these are now asking protection against the worse element of their own race. It might be well enough for the white people to take a similar stand and ask that the worse element of that race be compelled to go to work or get out. The time is coming when honest men of all classes shall have to band themselves together against the lawless element that so threatens our institutions. Men of all classes and colors who are not willing to do right, should be called to account for their misdeeds. Glenns Graphic.

Many of the State's exhibits for the St. Louis Exposition will first be seen at the State Fair at Owensboro next month, and the fact that many of the prize winning exhibits will be sent to the World's Fair next year will prove an additional incentive to everyone. Land, Stock, Crops.

Hemp has been kept back by the drouth. It is now improving, but will, probably, make a rather short crop.

Butter of medium firmness loses about 3 per cent. of moisture for every revolution it is worked in excess.

Tobacco has improved slightly, but it is generally small for the season, and a full crop is not expected. It was badly damaged by drouth in portions of the Burley district. In the Western section most of it has been topped. There is considerable complaint of freckling, but very few worms.

Apples are doing well in the Western section, elsewhere they continue to fall from the trees and are becoming scarce.

The corn crop will be too valuable this year to allow any part of it to go to waste, therefore save all of the fodder. We are told by all agricultural authorities, that every part of the corn plant is useful if strictly preserved and made use of.

Gardens and melons suffered from the drouth more, probably, than the staple crops, but they have improved since the rains. Sweet potatoes are doing very well.

Fresh air is as necessary to the proper development of the body as it is food. If fowls breathe impure air, they do not get the supply of oxygen needed by the system.

Steers will gain more rapidly on grass than on any other kind of food during this month, provided they are allowed grain at night. Prices have fallen, as is usually the case at this season, and it may be found more to hold them over than to sell, if pastureage is plentiful; but if they are to be fed in stalls entirely, the sooner they are disposed of the better.

Corn is excellent and well advanced in the western and west central counties, where good yields seem to be assured. It is improving in the eastern half of the State, but it has been seriously damaged by drouth in many localities. The greatest damage is in the Bluegrass region and adjacent counties.

Farm work has progressed well; threshing of wheat is about completed; all saved corn laid by and plowing for wheat is being rapidly pushed.

When high prices for farm products prevail it is natural that we should feel that the producer is getting a good thing by reason of such prices. Not always. The high prices prevailing just now for some kinds of farm products find them in the hands of the speculator. High prices prevail now for cotton, but the crop has passed from the hands of the producer. It is usually the same with pork, grain and other products.

Pastures are improving. They were about dried up in many localities, and stock had to be fed. Some late fields of hay were saved during the week. The early and intermediate forage crops averaged good, and were saved in an excellent condition. Millet and sorghum are only fair. A fairly large acreage of stock peas and other late forage crops has been planted.

Mr. Catesby Woodford, of Lexington, sold in New York, last week, 19 head of yearling thoroughbreds for $37,000. He sold two head a few days ago for $5,000.

It is rumored that a large packing plant is to be established in Kansas City for the exclusive business of slaughtering Angora goats. Packers already know a truck that would be worth a whole lot of this nature. They can now turn out a very good grade of mutton at their present packing plants, and should sheep become short coats will answer just as well. To have a packing plant that is to be given to the exclusive use of goats would mean that it would be idle as soon as the supply would run short, something that would soon happen.

The high price of cotton is causing many of the large cotton mills to suspend operations. Speculators have forced prices up to a figure that will greatly curtail the production and consumption of cotton goods.

With land worth $75 per acre, corn worth 35 cents, hay $6 and hired help worth $25 per month and board, it will cost about $56 to produce a 30 month old steer weighing 1,300 pounds, and the breed of the animal will determine whether there will be any profit in his production. If he is a scrub and brings $4 per hundred weight he will be raised at a loss; if a high grade Shorthorn, Doodie or Whiteface and brings $6 there will be a profit. About all the losses and profits associated with beef production are connected with this proposition, and the worst of it is that there are so many men who will not believe it until they have tried it.

Not 25 per cent. of the hemp now grown in Fayette and other hemp raising counties of Kentucky will be broken, said Col. Jerry Delph, the well-known auctioneer and land agent, of Lexington. Col. Delph is an authority on agricultural topics, and during his trips through Central Kentucky has had many opportunities to observe the effects of the present drouth on growing crops, "throughout the blue grass region where the drouth has been most severe on the best lands," said Col. Delph, hemp shows the need of rain very badly. Most of it is not over three feet tall and it is blooming. Whenever hemp blooms and the stem gets hard and dry no amount of rain will do it any good. The yield this year will be very small, and as a matter of course the price will be higher.

We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and Liver Troubles that has not been cured—and we also mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual costiveness, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, despondent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try a 25 cent bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At Stormes' Drug Store. G. G. Green, Woodbury, N. J. Aug. 29

A man has no more religion in him than comes out of him. Salvation is not by culture but culture comes by salvation.

DeWitt is the Name.

When you go to buy Witch Hazel Salve look for the name DeWitt on every box. The pure, unadulterated Witch Hazel is used in making DeWitt's Witch Salve, which is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, eczema and piles. The popularity of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, due to its many cures has caused numerous worthless counterfeits to be placed on the market. The genuine bears the name of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by F. P. Frisbie.

Men would have more faith in God if the saw more works in men.

Eat all you Want.

Persons troubled with indigestion or Dyspepsia can eat all they want if they will take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. This remedy prepares the stomach for the reception, retention, digestion and assimilation of all of the wholesome food that may be eaten, and enables the digestive organs to transform the same into the kind of blood that gives health and strength. Sold by F. P. Frisbie.

GEMS OF THOUGHT.

Life's real depends on religion's ideals. — Sam's Horn.

Write it on your heart that every day is the best day of the year. — Emerson.

The road to ruin is a down grade, not a leap over a precipice. — United Presbyterian.

The habit of looking on the best side of every event is worth more than a thousand pounds a year. — Dr. Samuel Johnson.

The sweetest music is not in orations, but in the human voice when it speaks from its instant life tones of tenderness, truth and courage. — Hiram Carson.

Beauty is God's handwriting; welcome it in every fair face, every fair sky, every fair flower and thank for it. — Him, the fountain of all loveliness. — Charles Kingsley.

To be everywhere and everything in sympathy and yet content to remain where and what you are—is not this to know both wisdom and virtue and to dwell with happiness? — R. L. Stevenson.

Nothing can lessen the dignity of humanity so long as the religion of love, of unselfishness and of devotion endures, and none can destroy the altars of this faith for so long as we feel ourselves capable of love. — Amiel's Journal.

The greatest man is he who chooses the right with invincible resolution, who resists the worst temptations from within and without, who bears the heaviest burdens cheerfully, who is calmest in storms and most fearless under menace and frowns, whose reliance on truth, on virtue, on God is most unflinching. — W. E. Channing.

Novelty in the arrangement of exhibition features, is eagerly sought by promoters of industrial expositions. The Fall Festival Association of Cincinnati, claims to have solved the problem of combining usefulness and beauty, for display purposes, in a Hall of all Nations for the September Festival.

The floor of the great Music Hall will be arranged in a series of booths, each representing some nation of the world—England, France, Spain, Germany, Russia, Ireland, America, etc.—with decorations, architecture, costumes, and so far as may be, exhibits, showing the typical products and industries of the country represented.

The merchants and business men of Cincinnati have not been slow to appreciate the decorative advantages of the Hall of all Nations for presenting their goods and importations under the most favorable conditions.

One importing house will display silks laces and feminine trifles, under the French tri-color; another, cotton ducks, prints and drillings, under the Stars and Stripes. The Brazilian flag will wave over a booth wherein the entire process of gathering, drying, roasting and making coffee from the berry will be carried on. The Russian booth will exhibit costly furs; "the cup that cheers yet not inebriates," will be brewed under the claws of the yellow dragon, guardian of the Celestial Empire. Memories of the German fatherland, and of Erin, will be revived by handsomely decorated booths maintained by patriotic societies of those countries, whose citizens have found a new home under the gracious shadow of the American eagle.

The attendants of all the displays in the Hall of the Nations, will wear the costume of the country to whose booth they are attached, thus maintaining a picturesque ensemble.

Dysentery Cured Without the Aid of a Doctor.

"I am just up from a hard spell of flux," (dysentery) says Mr. T. A. Pinner, a well-known merchant of Drummond Tenn. I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was cured without having a doctor. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world. There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for child or adult. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists.

It will not do to promise God the faded flower when He asks for the bud.

Foley's Kidney Cure will cure all diseases arising from disordered kidneys or bladder. C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

It is always easier to draw money out of a lean purse than out of a fat one.

I have practiced medicine for 36 years and have consulted the leading physicians in this country in regard to a remedy for Dyspepsia, but have never been able to find anything that would effect a cure until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have suffered with stomach trouble for years. Could not eat anything but milk toast for months but since I used Kodol I can eat anything and feel that my health is better than it ever was in my life. I can not say enough for Kodol for it has saved my life and I know that it will cure any case of Dyspepsia if taken as directed. — M. D. Steel, M. D., Big Hill, Ky. Sold by Frisbie.

Not Over-Wise.

There is an old allegorical picture of a girl scared at a grass-hopper, but in the act of heedlessly treading on a snake. This is paralleled by the man who spends a large sum of money building a cyclone cellar, but neglects to provide his family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a safeguard against bowel complaints, whose victims outnumber those of the cyclone a hundred to one. This remedy is everywhere recognized as the most prompt and reliable medicine in use for these diseases. For sale by all druggists.

The grumbling Christian is more greedy of God's goods than of his grace.

A Physician Hesitant.

Dr. Geo. Ewing, a practicing physician of Smith's Grove, Ky., for over thirty years writes his personal experience with Foley's Kidney Cure: "For years I had been greatly bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and enlarged prostate gland. I used everything known to the profession without relief, until I commenced to use Foley's Kidney Cure. After taking three bottles I was entirely relieved and cured. I prescribe it now daily in my practice and heartily recommend its use to all physicians for such troubles. I have prescribed it in hundreds of cases with perfect success. C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

Save the Children.

Ninety-nine out of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are all caused by indigestion Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, of Nashville, Tenn., says, "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by F. P. Frisbie.

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universal known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boecher's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but severe Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup—and especially for Consumption where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At Stormes' Drug Store.

Potent Pill Pleasure.

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Philpot, of Albany, Ga., says, "During a bilious attack I took one. Small as it was it did more good than calomel, blue-mass or any other pills I ever took and at the same time it effected me pleasantly. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." Sold by F. P. Frisbie.
